

Dear Readers,

with the Spring 2018 issue of the Central European Journal of Communication we close the first decade of our journal. Bearing in mind this anniversary and the fact that some of our colleagues have left to other jobs we would like to thank them for their valued contributions to the CEJC over the last ten years.

We address our gratitude to Paweł Baranowski, who served as editor of book reviews, as well as to Adam Michel, thanks to his efforts and hard work the Central European Journal of Communication has been introduced and included in several international and Polish scientific databases, including CEJSH, Bazhum and Index Copernicus International. We thank Jacek Nożewski, who did a great job as editor of the CEJC website (www.cejc.ptks.pl). We wish Paweł, Adam, and Jacek a lot of success in their future endeavors.

Róża Smolak will continue her job as a coordinator of submissions. We have invited to our team new members: Julia Trzcńska as a Book Review editor, Paulina Barczyszyn-Madziarz as a coordinator of the database, and Klaudia Szmit as a coordinator of the CEJC website. We wish all of them satisfaction and joy in their CEJC activities.
